About Nygård Cay / NYGÅRD International

Nygård Cay is one of the most talked about and unique residences throughout the world. Designed by Peter Nygård, the private 150,000 square foot Mayan themed luxury resort includes replicas of Mayan temples, tennis courts, three private beach volleyball courts, pool, Grand Hall, disco club, spa, gym and over 20 themed cabanas. The guest list includes Oprah Winfrey, Sean Connery, Michael Jackson, the Kennedy's, and Robert DeNiro.

NYGÅRD International is number one when it comes to information technology. Nygård's slogan "Where Fashion Meets Technology", pioneered by Nygård in the early 1980's, is emblematic of the company's melding of IT and operations. The speed with which Nygård claimed his unique position is attributed to his savvy business decisions, use of cutting- edge technology and a work ethic that includes 14 to 16 hour days, seven days a week. But then again, as Nygård says, "The only time you are working is when you wish you were doing something else." Because of this, he now controls one of North America's largest women's fashion houses.

Not only is Peter Nygård known in the fashion marketplace, he is recognized globally for his charitable efforts. Throughout Nygård's illustrious career, he has continually given back to the community. Over a decade ago, he began his crusade to find a cure for breast cancer, making this the company's corporate charity of choice. Last year NYGÅRD donated over $2 million to the cause.

In addition to Nygård's commitment to breast cancer research, his love of sports and drive to help people succeed has also motivated him to sponsor many Bahamian athletes over the years. His contribution to sports has been well received by the Bahamian community - and his sponsorship is ongoing.
